Subject: Guidelines for Completion of the CIAM Thesis Paper

Step (E)

From: LIMRA Talent Solutions International

Step (E), Thesis Paper - the CIAM process is intended to help the applicant think critically about a key component of agency management and indicate how the steps in the CIAM have helped him/her implement effective management practices in that area. Therefore, the following guidelines should be followed in completing this step of the CIAM:

- A. After completing Steps (A) (D) of the CIAM, the candidates should review the topics covered in the programs completed, his/her own current unit/agency operations, and the long term objectives for that operation.
- B. Based on this review, the candidate should identify a specific theme, topic, or aspect of field management that is of particular interest and/or has been impacted by what has been covered in Steps (A) (D) of the CIAM.
- C. A brief title and description (50 words or less) of the topic is to be submitted to the LIMRA Talent Solutions International staff for approval.
- D. LIMRA Talent Solutions International staff will send the topic to a CIAM expert reviewer and respond back to the candidate to indicate whether or not the topic is approved.
  - If the topic is approved, the candidate can begin writing the thesis paper, following the requirements in (E) below. If the topic is not approved, the CIAM expert reviewer will indicate how the proposed topic should be changed in order for approval to be given. Assuming the suggested changes are agreed to by the candidate, he/she may begin writing the thesis paper, following the requirements in (E) immediately below.
- E. The requirements for the actual writing of the thesis paper are as follows:
  - 1. Length 12 to 16 pages, inclusive of attachments, enclosures, etc.;
  - 2. Double spaced;
  - 3. Paper A4 or standard U.S. letter size, 8 ½ x 11 inches;
  - 4. Font size = 12 point; and
  - 5. Number of characters per line = 70-85 (or the comparable number in the language of the applicant); and
  - 6. Content the actual content of the paper/thesis should include information covering the following three areas:
    - a. A comprehensive description of the specific theme, topic, or aspect of field management that is the subject being covered in the paper/thesis;
    - A description of what the applicant has actually done to apply and/or implement this theme topic, or aspect of field management in his/her own field management activities as a result of his/her completion of Steps (A) -(D) of the CIAM process; and
    - c. An analysis of the results produced by applying this theme, topic, or aspect of field management, i.e., what has worked, what has not worked, and how is the applicant modifying his/her activities as a result of these experiences.

Upon completion, applicants need to email the thesis paper to talentsolutionsinternational@limra.com
